

Open Position - Concert Band Director

The Southern Maine New Horizons Band, a New Horizons adult concert band is seeking a Music Director to lead the band at rehearsals and performances and to assist in music selection as well as fostering the education and development of band members' musical growth. Founded in 2017, the band has grown to approximately twenty musicians - woodwinds, brass, and percussion. We currently rehearse weekly in Portland, ME and periodically perform concerts at local venues. A different schedule may be established by mutual consent.

An established small 501(c)(3) organization, the Music Director will work with the band's Officers and Board members. Compensation is a modest stipend commensurate with responsibilities as well as schedule, scope of work, etc. and is open to negotiation. Our current Director has relocated from Portland and is working with us through June. While some level of a summer session is desired, we hope to resume rehearsing on a regular schedule in September 2024.

As a New Horizons Band we are committed to an enjoyable instrumental music experience and growth for all levels, including experienced musicians learning different instruments, folks who perhaps played years ago in school and those just starting out on their instrumental music journey.
